Summary of Case On August 14, 1973, Detective W. K. King of the Dallas Police Youth Division received information from a confidential informant that John David Norman was operating a homosexual ring at his apartment located at 3716 Cole Avenue, Apartment #208. The informant also told Detective King that John David Norman had a large number of files in his apartment which listed the names of out-of-town persons who were involved in committing acts of Sodomy with friends of John Norman. Detective King then obtained an implement search warrant from Municipal Court Judge George L. Orndoff then notified Officers J. R. Landers, R. C. Nelson.

and G. K. Springer of the Special Investigations Unit. Officers Landers, Nelson, and Springer went to the above location and placed the location under visual surveillance awaiting the arrival of Detective King with the search warrant. When Officers were notified by police radio that the search warrant had been obtained, Officer Landers went to the Apartment Manager's Office to obtain a pass key for Apartment #208. While Officer Landers was inside the manager's apartment, John David Norman came out of his apartment and was stopped by Detective Springer. Detective Springer then advised John Norman that a search warrant had been issued for his apartment. At that time, Officers Landers, Nelson, and Springer entered the apartment and began a search of the residence. Officers located several boxes of index cards bearing the names of persons suspected of committing the act of sodomy with friends of John Norman. As officers were gathering up the files and nude pictures of males and placing them near the front door, Detective Nelson observed John David Norman taking something from his pocket and place it underneath him in a chair. At this point, Detective Nelson instructed John David Norman to stand up in front of the chair. As John David Norman stood up in front of the chair, Detective Nelson observed the evidence listed as Exhibit A in this case on top of the chair cushion. Detective Nelson then seized this evidence and released it to Officer Landers. When the search of the apartment was concluded, the officers placed John David Nelson and several young white males under arrest for Investigation of Conspiracy to Commit Sodomy. John David Norman was also charged with Investigation Violation State Narcotic Law. John David Norman and the other persons arrested were then transported to City Hall and placed in jail on the above charges. Officer Landers then initialed and dated the evidence for future identification and deposited the evidence in the locked evidence box located in the Crime Scene Search Section of the Dallas Police Department.
